Dark Tobacco Growers Urged to Vote "Yes" On Leaf Quota

TOBACCO GROWERS TO VOTE ON 3-YEAR QUOTAS NOV. 23

AAA Commitment Point Out Importance of Large Vote on Issue

BETTER PRICES SEEN UNDER NEW SETUP

Dark tobacco growers of Calloway county will vote in a referendum on marketing quotas Saturday, November 23, tobacco officials stated here this morning.

Triple A committeemen pointed out that it is important for all growers to cast their ballots in the referendum, since the question of quotas for a 3-year period is presented for the first time. With quotas for a 3-year period, growers can expect better prices than with quotas for a 1-year period, committeemen stated.

Better prices to farmers mean better business for everyone in the Dark area. Full details of the referendum can be obtained from the County AAA office or from AAA committeemen.

Important outlets for fire-cured tobacco have been closed as a result of war. Even with a 1940 crop estimated at 96 million pounds, the present prospects are that production this year will exceed domestic consumption and exports for the coming year by 35 million pounds. Growers must act if they wish to avoid the low prices to be avoided. The 1941 acreage allotments will be substantially smaller than those for 1940.

On November 23, growers will have an opportunity to decide whether or not they desire to use marketing quotas to aid in correcting this situation. Quotas can be used to prevent further increase in supplies and thus protect growers' income. Growers may adopt quotas for a one-year or a three-year period.

If quotas are approved for three years no 1941 farm allotment would be reduced more than 25% from the 1940 farm allotment. If quotas are disapproved or approved for one year only, this adjustment on the 1940 farm allotment would be 33 1/3%.

In addition, two cruizers and two fleet auxiliaries were also damaged. Also light British warships boldly engaged the Italian fleet at Premier Mussolini's very doorstep by sailing into the narrow straits of Taranto and attacking a convoy engaged in carrying supplies to Albania. The Italian fleet was in a death-struggle with Greece. A supply ship was sunk, two others were on fire, and a fourth ship and a destroyer critically damaged. A second destroyer escaped under cover of a smokescreen.

A total of 88,000 tons of ships were put in drydock for the Italians by heavy British fire. Planes carrying torpedoes and bombs attacked the Italian fleet. The attack, it was reported in naval circles, was reported in naval circles.

In Berlin Soviet Premier-foreign Commissar Molotov held a four-hour conference Wednesday with Adolf Hitler, their second and informed sources said that much of this time was spent in "negotiations". The nature of these negotiations was not disclosed.

The discussions previously had been described broadly as aimed at developing a long-range program of Soviet-Nazi collaboration.

Official circles were silent on the subject discussed, but informants declared both German and Russian speakers at the dinner given Molotov last night emphasized the friendly nature of relations between the two nations. The Soviet's day began with a conference with Goering, who observers assumed, gave him a hard-headed Friday night.

With each man on both teams accounting for at least one point, the first half closed with the Warriors on top 14-11. The half opened with a bang—sack! Kirksey's big guns, Copeland, Paschall and Washer, stepped up the dizzy pace but were met by the sharp shooting of Beale, Herndon and Young who matched shot for shot.

With the ball game almost over, a Kirksey netter took a last chance shot from beyond center court to tie the affair up at 24-24.

The first extra period of play saw each team scoring one field goal, thus ending the frame 26-26. Then in the half-raising second over-time minutes the teams put up such a magnificent defensive front that neither scored.

The third and final episode gave Kirksey the nod as he flipped in a field goal within the first minute of play.

Friday night, November 15, the Warriors will invade Faxon and on Tuesday night, November 19, will play host to the fast Hardin outfit.

The lineups: Almo 26 Pos. Kirksey 28 Phillips 2 F Copeland 8 Nelson 2 F Paschall 7 Herndon 7 C Washer 8 Beale 11 G Rose 1 Young 4 G Ezel 4

Give work rather than alms to the poor. The former drives out indolence, the latter industry.—Tyron Edwards.

Murray, Kentucky

My dear Mr. Melton:

Please accept my thanks for the splendid cooperation you gave us during the recent State Democratic Campaign. The newspapers of Kentucky cooperated splendidly and your paper deserves credit for the space you so generously contributed.

An attempt was made to keep the copy on a high plane and I do not believe that the publication of news from here caused any ill feelings anywhere in the State.

I sincerely hope that it will be possible for me to reciprocate your courtesies at some future date. The entire State Democratic organization appreciates your efforts and your cooperation in every way possible.

With all best wishes for your continued success, I am, Fraternally yours,

GOOD ROADS TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEET SATURDAY, 2 P. M.

Judge Clopton Calls Meet to Try to Get More Good Roads

RICHMOND WILL BE KEYNOTE SPEAKER

County Judge John W. Clopton announced today that a special meeting had been called for all persons in Calloway county that are interested in improving the roads in the county, for the court-house Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, where an extensive campaign to secure more good roads for the county would be begun.

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of the Murray State College, has been secured as the keynote speaker, and a lot is expected to be accomplished by Judge Clopton.

There are many roads throughout the county that need re-building or improving, the county judge said. With the co-operation of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, the local college, and the citizens of this county a lot can be done to get more good roads.

It is our intention to secure at least a committee of 25 men from this county—men who have influence in the county, and send them to Frankfort, and get something done. We're tired of other counties getting all the good roads, and Calloway county always getting left out.

He pointed out that the streets secured in Murray were gotten only through insistence of the Chamber of Commerce and the local city commission, plus the hearty cooperation of the local citizens.

The veteran legislator was elected to the Senate in 1906, which was the first time Nevada had ever had a state-wide election for legislators to Washington. Prior to this, men had been appointed by the state legislature.

Among those from out-of-town who attended funeral services for baby Nell June McCord Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. MAKE-OVER LIGHTING BEAUTIFIES BOUDOIR

Besides Lending Charm to Bedroom, Light Conditioning Makes for Reading Comfort. Thanks to Tallish Vanity Lamp, Make-Up Is Simplified.

By Jean Prentice

ONE of the new ways to beautify a bedroom, or any room in the house, in fact, is with new lighting.

There is a great difference between this new lighting and the old. Persons who visited the World's Fairs caught a glimpse of some of the amazing new things being done with lighting, and this goes for home lighting, too.

The illumination specialists have worked out new and better ways to light our homes just as the home economic specialists have worked out more accurate recipes for cooking.

The recipe for new lighting, or light conditioning, includes three ingredients: 1, enough light; 2, the right quality of lighting; 3, good distribution. These combine to make room lighting beautiful as well as comfortable to the eyes.

How such a recipe can be carried out in the bedroom of even a modest home is illustrated by the photo shown here.

Joan, a young schoolgirl, had a hankering for a prettier bedroom. . . . and very little money to spend upon it. She decided to make her room more comfortable and attractive with improved lighting. In the ceiling socket, which had formerly held a bulb in a glass shade, she screwed a new indirect adaptor fixture. The fixture went in as easy as a bulb. It was a 150-watt silver-bowl bulb for an expanse of silky lighting all through the room.

Over the bed she lacked a wall lamp with inner bowl to sit out downward glare, and a 100-watt bulb to give enough light.

A wall bracket was modernized quickly with a little paint, a new candle husk, small inner bowl and shade, together with a 40-watt bulb.

The husk, bowl and shade come in sets. They give a new look to an old bracket.

At the dressing table new boudoir lamps tall enough to send light smoothly over her face were substituted for an older squat lamp.

Under the new lighting the tiny pink carnation patterns in the blue wall paper took on new distinction. The luster of the blue silk dressing table was more noticeable. The new lighting did full justice, also, to the bed-room "pineapple" quilt on the bed.

No wonder that interior decorators today are giving more and more attention to the type of lighting placed in a room. The old day of shadows and pools of light in a room have gone. Light conditioning with its smoothness and suaveness has taken its place as a recognized standard for beauty.

Air Express Spreads Its Wings

First air express shipment in history of transportation consisting of five bolts of silk weighing 50 pounds was flown 65 miles in 71 minutes from Dayton to Columbus, Ohio, in November 1910, lashed to frame of Wright plane. Today, 30 years later, Rayair Express Agency reports hundreds of packages weighing tons are speeded daily in cargo compartments of giant transport planes for overnight delivery 2,500 miles away.

Beaman-McDougal

Standards of mums, palms, and tapers in cathedral candelabra formed the background for the wedding of Ola B. Beaman, daughter of Mrs. Jesse Beaman of West Grand Avenue, and John McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McDougall of Quincey Avenue, November 7th at the Highland Park Baptist Church.

Dr. William G. Colman, pastor of the church, officiated at the service at 8 o'clock in the evening. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, James Beaman, was gown in heavy embroidered taffeta made on princess line with a sweetheart neckline, and a full skirt extending into a long train. Her double finger slip veil fell from a halo styled with braided daisy pearls, and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's attendant wore full skirted frock of heavy taffeta, with velvet streamers falling from the deep sweetheart neckline, and brief full sleeves. Their head dresses were of tulle with gathered hair and falling to the shoulders.

Josephine Beaman, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a gown of blue velvet. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Madelle Talent and Mrs. Irene Franklin, who wore gowns of deep rose. They carried arm bouquets of bronze yellow mums, tied with taffeta ribbons.

One Hansen performed the duties of best man. The ushers were Alex Lindsay, Arthur Franklin, Jr., Lee Butler, and Prudence Beaman. Harry McDougall acted as junior usher and Henry Prudhomme as door man.

Eric Franker played the organ during the ceremony and Mrs. Lee Butler sang two solos.

The bride's mother wore a frock of royal blue velvet, and the bridegroom's mother wore a frock of wine velvet. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

After the reception the couple left on a motor trip East. For traveling the bride wore a suit of dark green wool trimmed with red fox. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dougall will reside in Highland Park.

Master Beale Celebrates Birthday
Master Robert Julian Beale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rue Beale, celebrated his third birthday with a party in the lobby of the men's dormitory at the college on Friday afternoon, November 8. Informal play with toys of all kinds was enjoyed. The college photographer made pictures of Bob and his guests grouped around the table which held the birthday cake with three candles, after which the young host cut the cake and served it to his guests with lemonade and cookies. Balloons were presented as favors.

Those present were Joe Lee Hadden, Walter and June Derryberry, Jerry Choate, Wells Purdon, Jr., John Preston Ordway, Nancy Wear, William Gibson, Martha Shemwell, Mary Anne Wolfson, and Bob Beale.

Mrs. Horton Is Club Hostess
Mrs. L. J. Horton was at home Monday afternoon to members of her bridge club. The game was played at three tables and the high score prize was awarded Mrs. W. G. Nash.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the game.

Missionary Society Meets Tuesday
The Missionary Society of the First Christian Church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sheld Davis with Mrs. Rupert Parks and Mrs. J. H. Coleman assisting in the hostess duties.

A short business session was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Charles Williamson. Mrs. R. L. Wade was leader for the program, and the devotional was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Coleman using as her topic "I Will Build My Church to Give Abundant Life." A vocal solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd" was given by Mrs. Frances Coleman Johnson with Mrs. Wade at the piano.

Pat Baker was host to a group of friends. Covers were laid for Hazel Hood, Dickie Hood, Bobs Stewart, Naomi Lee Whitnell, Joe White of Paris, Tenn., John Daniel Lovett, Sam Elliott and the host.

Mrs. Parkins Is Club Hostess
Mrs. Bill Parkins was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of her bridge club and several guests. Mrs. Ardell Knight received the prize for high score, and Mrs. Graves, low.

The hostess served a party plate to Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Hendon, Mrs. Fred Cotham, Mrs. J. T. Smith, Mrs. Joe Parker, Mrs. George Ed Overby, and Mrs. Hillman Thurman.

Senior Class of Hazel High School Works Enthusiastically on Yearbook

Calvin West, editor-in-chief of "The Hazel Lion," yearbook of the Hazel High school, with his staff has the following to say about the 1941 annual:

The seniors of Hazel High school received a big package the other day and what do you think it was? Why it was a sample of the biggest and the best and the finest yearbook (or annual) that has been printed since Washington crossed the Delaware. No, it hasn't been printed yet, but we have the needed material to do it ourselves. The company from which we purchased the material has printed the main artistic designing, the title pages, backs, etc.

"It is not only going to be grand inside but it has the most beautiful covers you have ever seen, a beautiful blue cover bordered in gold, with the name on the back engraved in gold."

"The name is 'The Hazel Lion.' No doubt you have heard of our school emblem, which is the lion, the King of Beasts. We strive to make our school the King of schools in every thing we enter, not through our brute strength, but through sportsmanship and keen knowledge which our faculty both present and past have so patiently taught us."

"Now for a description of the contents of this book. We have a book of 45 pages to be filled out by the student body, under the supervision of the faculty and senior class."

"We have six pages reserved for pictures which are to be photographed right on the page by 'Inter-Collegiate Press.' Now every one likes pictures, for they bring back memories we would not take millions for. That school-day sweetheart for the students. But you older persons have a grand piece of material for priceless memory in future years when your children are in the Whitehouse or some noted office in the big city. You will get your annual and look at your child's picture and say 'we could see that they had and what it would take.'"

"But then you know it wouldn't be much if it were only pictures. It contains a Senior class history telling you the good things about the senior class. Please excuse the bad things for we will try hard to cover them with good things. A class prophecy will be contained in this great book. We don't guarantee this prophecy to be accurate, of course, so your child or leave it to you to be the judge."

"Oh Yes! We have a society column in our book. We give you the information on our clubs, contests entered, etc."

"Each class in high school is given a page to use as they see fit. Each class has a group picture in this the greatest annual ever put out by any high school. We do not have the finances sufficient to put out this book so we are going to ask you merchants to help us. Don't misunderstand me, we do not want a donation, but we do want you to buy space from us to place a 'go getter' advertisement in our book. You know a lot of people will see this book, so they will have to see you advertisement. Rates will be cheap, so with your help we can put out a book Hazel, the school, the students, the patrons and the faculty will be proud of."

The yearbook staff is as follows: Calvin West, editor-in-chief; Mary Alice Myers, assistant editor.

Dear Editor, Ledger & Times,

And Its Readers:

Now that the great national election is over and the people have spoken and have warned the axis powers that Democracy not only lives but rears itself in stronger terms than ever before, and that we are coolly making every necessary preparation for our defense and to render all the aid to all other democracies we can.

The result of the election is very gratifying to a large majority as well as to myself, for this reason: In the event of Mr. Wilkie's election, owing to the attitude labor and capital hold, one against the other, I think it a good thing that there be no such election. Mr. Wilkie is a capitalist forces of this country and I think there would have been so much friction between the two opposing sides that there would have been strikes, shut-outs and riots.

HOW WE VOTED

In the recent election Calloway county voted 760 to 1. Ballard county was nearest to our county with a 5-1 vote in the first district with an average of 160 votes to the precinct. Calloway's precinct average was 260 with two precincts voting over 400 and 600 respectively.

This conjunction caused a loss in votes in these precincts of perhaps many votes. Southwest Murray has over 1100 registered voters. Calloway precincts should be increased at once so that the voters will find it easier to cast their vote.

If it had not been for the conjunction at the polls Calloway county would have been first in votes and cash. But as it were our county yielded to Trimble county while casting a vote of 790 to 1 while having an average of only 190 to the precinct.

Swet Owen came third with 646 and had an average of 170 the precinct. Jackson county has the distinction of giving the greatest percentage to the Republican ticket. She voted 8 to 1 with only 163 to the precinct. Graves county voted 469 with an average of 230 per precinct.

Calloway county gave more majority than the rest of the county of the voters. Why should not Calloway be appreciated more by the administration at Frankfort?

We want no more than it is right for us to have, but we are not getting our just dues in so far as road building is concerned. Why not "press" our claims more for better road allotment.

Training School Extends Service to Farm Youths

A number of interesting facts have just been disclosed from the summary of a recently conducted educational survey of the needs of the out-of-school farm youths living within the patronage area of the Training School. Through its Department of Vocational Agriculture, the local school has recognized a new educational responsibility, due to the presence in the locality of some 50 young men between the ages of 16 to 25 living and working on farms, but whose schooling is incomplete. The survey, conducted by W. H. Brooks, teacher of Vocational Agriculture in the Training School, indicates that at least 25 of these young men desire training in some of the following enterprises: Dairying, Dark Tobacco, Poultry, and Swine. One of these enterprises will be given special consideration in this part-time course. Also, some instruction will be offered in the newly erected farm shop which has just been installed in the Training School this year.

In speaking of the new field of educational service, Superintendent W. J. Caplinger said, "Every American citizen is entitled to full educational service. We feel that in this rich agricultural locality, ours, we should make some adaptation of the school term so as to provide needed instruction for farm youths of school age who are unable to attend the regular all-day school. The success with adult farmers in the evening school classes held last year led us to believe that any good educational system provides for the out-of-school and adult groups as well as for the in-school group. We intend to try to include people from all three groups in our program in the Training School area this year."

Organization plans are now under way for starting the first agriculture part-time class based on the needs and wants of the out-of-school group. It will be a different type of school set up on the practical basis and arranged at such a time that it will be possible for all to attend who are interested. Federal and state funds are available to assist the local school in putting on the training.

This is another service offered by the Training School free to all who are eligible and interested in this type of training. The first meeting will be Wednesday, November 14, 7:30 p. m. in the Agriculture Room of the Training School.

The Senior Home Room topic for Wednesday morning was Fine Arts. J. Buddy Farther, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mr. Ingels and turned the program over to him. He discussed architecture and music and played several recordings of classical music.

The seniors enjoyed a chili dinner in the home economics room, Friday.

We held a business meeting Tuesday and the contract was signed for our rings.

Work has been started on our 3-act play.

We thank all students who took part in the 1-act plays.

Enter—King Winter

With the thermometer hitting a new low of 16 for this winter, overcoats and mackinaws are in their prime, much to the delight of the clothing store man, who still contends that if the cold spell doesn't come before Christmas the average man will go through the entire winter without buying an overcoat.

The coal business, booming because of winter's chill, and the cleaning establishments, who appreciate the cold because coal soot is the cleaning man's best friend, will now be in their prime.

With people shivering with the new chill and delicate old ladies staying indoors by their firesides, King Winter is here at last, to the ledger's misery and the school-boy's delight. We cannot hibernate with the bear so we must adjust ourselves to the icy blast, then grin and bear it.

Murray State College Freshman Squad

THE Nazi-Fascist theory of "exploding power" at the expense of other peoples has been on the march long enough for all of us to realize its consequences. Although Hitler calls it a "world revolution" of young nations against the old and decadent, it is, in fact, a counter-revolution against the freedoms that have been won by human beings through centuries of aspiring and sacrificing.

There is no such thing in Germany, Italy and Japan as that freedom which we have proclaimed for ourselves in the Bill of Rights, and there is little more than slavery and suffering for peoples of those nations which have been overrun by the Nazi war machine. We believe that all Americans are determined that what happened to Norway, Denmark and Holland, peaceful nations which sought only their peaceful and happy ways of life, shall not happen to us of the Americas.

Because British courage and tenacity form our first line of defense, because the British Navy is in truth our Atlantic Navy, because the heroic fight the British are making has, for the time being, blocked aggressive aims, made clear by Hitler, against this hemisphere, we favor giving them the fullest aid for our own security, in consideration of our own defense needs. We believe that help could be given that has not been given because we as citizens have not acquainted our Government leaders with the full strength of American sympathy for the British cause.

We purpose to maintain contacts with sources that have the fullest and most authentic information and to convey that information to the people of Louisville and Kentucky.

We purpose to invite committees which are already in existence in Kentucky to join with us in organizing chapters in every city and town in the State, so that upon specific questions and upon the broader questions of general policy which are bound to arise as the war progresses, we may have a quick and ready way to convey our sentiments to elected representatives.

One of the penalties of democracy is that it moves slowly. That it can fight nobly Britain has proved. That it can act quickly in an emergency we fully believe. We offer one channel through which sentiment that has already crystallized may become vocal; through which Kentuckians, who have always loved liberty, may be in the forefront of the national effort to secure it to ourselves.

To that end, we invite all those who feel as we do to join us. There is no financial obligation. Simply fill out the coupon below and send it in.

AMERICA GUARANTEES MANY BLESSINGS

In the various addresses delivered to the student body in the program at the opening of school, the fact was mentioned several times that we as Americans are the only people in the world who are opening schools this year. We are the only people who are able to sit down calmly and think and study and reason. We are the only people who are able to experience the breathless moment at the kick off of a football game when a line of earnest young men move as one perfect body, down the field, our team, defending the honor of our school. (We are able to put our all in that game whether we actually take part in the playing of it or not.)

We stand behind our team and rejoice in its victories or mourn its failures. We are able to live as happy, wholesome, individuals, secure and safe. Secure in the knowledge that our homes are not liable to be bombed, our families scattered, our food and clothing supplies reduced or removed, our very lives threatened at any moment. We live secure in our right to rule ourselves freely and purely, to choose our leaders and to make our laws. No where else in the world is all this possible.

And here at Murray High School this year we are blessed with more opportunities than ever before. Our building is in excellent condition, we have new comfortable chapel seats, new books in the library, our floors have just been done over, new tennis courts have just been constructed and will soon be completed for our use, we have new playground equipment, in many of our grades we have free textbooks; our last year's senior class presented us with a new loud speaker system; we have a motion picture machine; our new stadium is one of the best of any high school in Kentucky and the P. T. A. is providing us with a new piano for the auditorium. And most of all we have our faculty. They are our leaders; they are a group of wide awake individuals, each of which is ready and willing to help us take the fullest advantage of all our opportunities. Each of them knows his or her field thoroughly and they stand behind Murray High School to help us make it what it should be. These are our rights, our privileges, our opportunities; they are handed to us in the midst of a war-mad world, torn with greed and hate and chaos. They are handed to us by other generations. The least that we can do is to protect them and cherish them for the coming generations.

We started to school this year as usual; we came to the same class rooms, we had the same schedule; we still grumbled just a little about the chapel programs being dull. We listened to our opening addresses and settled down to the drudgery of everyday classes. Most of us study a little and hope a lot and get by somehow or other, content with poor or fair grades.

Two of our students were discussing recently the Anti-Nazi movies being released to the public. One of them said that he didn't like these pictures at all because he found them boring. What we need is more entertainment. The other said that this type of picture stirred him deeply and aroused in him a great desire to go out and fight. Each of us should have this spirit and use it right here, now.

We should keep ourselves mentally, physically, and morally awake and upright and strong. We should put everything we have in to showing our appreciation for our opportunities by taking the fullest possible advantage of them. Anything that is worth doing is worth doing well and the highest possible happiness is found in doing our very best. If each student in this high school would earnestly try this in school work and extra-curricular activities, this would be one of the most glorious years old Murray High School has seen in many a day and each of us as individuals would be more wholesome, efficient citizens when we come to the larger tasks ahead. Remember—No where else could all this happen.

Ray V. Lambert, general agent for the well-known Cotton Blossom Show Boat, was in this city this week making arrangements for the big boat to exhibit at Aurora Landing, Friday, November 15. The company will present a 3-act comedy drama, "The Unwelcome Visitor," with high class vaudeville between acts.

This is a new modern steel hull show boat which was built this year at Cincinnati, O., at a cost of $40,000. So come down and enjoy an evening on the river. The show starts at 7:30 p. m.

Home Ec Group Entertains Chapel

The Home Economics Department of Murray High School conducted assembly Friday, November 8.

Claire Fenton read the scripture lesson and Mr. Cavitt led in prayer. Miriam McElrath, Mary Frances McElrath and Mary Edith Lax sang "Maytime."

The program was opened with Miriam McElrath's presentation of the first year home economics girls' aprons. Miss Lula Clayton Beale accompanied on the piano. Those who took part in this were as follows:

Katherine Hoggess, Magdalene Bourland, Margaret Buckingham, Eugie Edwards, Sue Futrell, Carolyn Futrell, Maudina Garrison, Mildred Hutson, Norma Jean Hicks, Jimmie Lou Henderson, Imogene Lee, Mary Sue Miller, Lucy Lee Miles, Bobby Nell McKeel, Jo Nell Outland, Mary Jo Pentecost, Jane Roberts, Doris Aycock, Peggy Blalock, Juanita Coggins, Minnie Lee Churchill, Evelyn Cathey, Electa Miller, Yvonne Miller, Sarah Lou Palmer, Sarah Ruth Rhodes, Doris Rowland, Billy Mae Williams, and Volena Parks.

This was followed by a special accordion number by Nowata King. Then the second year home economics classes modeled the dresses that they have made. The one in this group were Madge Alexander, Fay Nell Anderson, Bobby Sue Bagwell, Virginia Beach, Myrtalean Cooper, Rena Dill, Wanda Fuzzell, Nowata King, Patricia Lynn, Euva Nell Thurman, Katie Witty, Jewell Dean Allbritten, Ruth Cathey, Mary Jane Dunn, Joanne Fulton, Earline Giles, Josephine James, Edith Lax, Mary Frances McElrath, Miriam McElrath, Wilma Sprague, Arlene Tucker, Sarah Jo Underwood, Louise Parks, and Volena Parks who is a freshman, but her sister Louise Parks made her dress in Home Ec.

Schools Make Drive On Obscene Mags

"Salacious magazines are definitely connected with the criminal activity of individuals predisposed toward sex crimes." So says Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing, perhaps the nation's outstanding authority on criminology. Studies Warden Lawes has made have convinced him that these salacious magazines have had a definite effect in many cases that have come under his observation.

Numerous cities have crusaded against the sale of these magazines on news stands, the most recent being Phoenixville, Pa., where the Rotary club is urging every civic, fraternal and service organization in the borough to mobilize their efforts in stamping out the sale of filthy literature.

Anent this drive, the Purple and White, student newspaper of Phoenixville, insists that findings made by Warden Lawes and J. Edgar Hoover must not be passed over lightly. In an editorial, the school paper continues:

"The effect of obscene magazines upon high school students is a serious problem now being realized by principals and teachers throughout the country. In a neighboring county high school an investigation was made. Each student's locker was opened and searched and nearly a hundred and fifty indecent publications were discovered.

"Cultivation of vulgarity, and inferior standards of taste and morals are surefire hits resulting from these malodorous publications. This, and the more serious consequence of sex crimes, is the evil we oppose in provoking and urging cooperation in this clean-up campaign. To stop the sale of lewd and immoral literature, full cooperation is needed. Make this drive the beginning of an era of curtailing sex crimes and one that will make it safe for people to walk the streets at will."

We heartily second the Purple and White's suggestions and hope for the day when magazines which have no recommendation except their filth will be banned by express carriers as well as the United States mails. Such action will make their circulation impossible.

Thurman Might Salvage Five Games

By Edd Kellow

(This is another of the articles dealing with basketball prospects in the high schools of Calloway county.)

Coach Clifton Thurman took up golf last summer. In fact his brand of golf improved, and by late fall he was playing a pretty fair game. But this is supposed to be a summary of the prospects he has at Murray Training School, although he'd rather talk about anything else.

Only three boys—Richard Armstrong, Joe Robinson, and Gene Graham are left from the first 15 men Thurman used to capture the Purchase Conference championship, and go on to beat the high school in the District Tournament. The others have chosen various ways to depart in one fashion or another from the Training School, or its basketball activities.

In their places are mere kids.

Regardless of the Value . . .

of the merchandise selected or the amount of service rendered, the same thoughtful care and attention is given.

We aim to render a superior service complete in every detail.

That fact always remains the same with us.

Sincerely,

Stella Gossip

The two next mornings after the November election, November 6-7, we had our first real frost and ice which were exhilarating.

L. H. Pogue will preach at Linnville, Sunday, at 10:45 a. m. Billy Jones (boy preacher) will preach Sunday at West Fork Baptist Church at 10:45 a. m. Garvin Curd will preach at Gilbertville Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and a singing convention will be held at Coldwater Church of Christ next Sunday at 1:30 p. m. Many song leaders have been invited along with everybody and his dad. Goshen and Coldwater churches would be delighted to have Herbert Lax and Franking Blankenship remain for another year.

I had planned to be buried in the Bazzell cemetery but our space, by mistake, has been "taken up." Now I have decided to be buried in Antioch cemetery. The best route from Murray is to take black top No. 121 through Coldwater to Graves county line, then take first left hand road due South to Bazzell, and next right hand road to Antioch.

The Brown's Grove road is crooked, yes, and rough. Also covered buttons of all kinds and sewing. Miss Dona Padgett, National Stores.

MRS. B. F. SCHERFFUS will again be the representative in Murray for Realside, Hosley and what the great majority of the sponsoring leaders of independent grocers in Group formation oppose the position of the National Retail Grocers Association on chain store taxes.

His full comment is as follows: "The Association is committed to the effort of taxing competition out of business. We have constantly felt that the sooner the Association takes this effort off its agenda the better it will be for the Voluntary and Co-operative and other independent grocery distributors."

"The resolution to tax the chains does not reflect the thinking of the leaders of the independent grocers in the Voluntary and Co-operative Groups field. It is very doubtful if the resolution reflects the sentiment of a majority of the members of the Association. We cannot speak with any authority as to the feeling of the majority of these retailers; but we can speak with authority as to the feeling of the great majority of the sponsoring leaders of independent grocers in Group formation, and this covers both jobber-sponsored Groups and retailer-owned Groups. This effort standing on the agenda of this organization is a distinct threat to all independent grocery Group organizations and a particular threat to NROG because of its dominant size and position. No one interested in the independent grocery field can take any position other than that the monopolistic trends of the chain stores should be curbed, but taxation is not the proper method by which to do this."

Real friendship is a slow grower, and never thrives unless engrafted upon a stock of knowledge and reciprocal merit—Lord Chesterfield. There are no greater miracles known to earth than perfection of the broken friendship—Mary Baker Eddy.

MRS. B. F. SCHERFFUS will again be the representative in Murray for Realside, Hosley and what the great majority of the sponsoring leaders of independent grocers in Group formation oppose the position of the National Retail Grocers Association on chain store taxes.

His full comment is as follows: "The Association is committed to the effort of taxing competition out of business. We have constantly felt that the sooner the Association takes this effort off its agenda the better it will be for the Voluntary and Co-operative and other independent grocery distributors."

"The resolution to tax the chains does not reflect the thinking of the leaders of the independent grocers in the Voluntary and Co-operative Groups field. It is very doubtful if the resolution reflects the sentiment of a majority of the members of the Association. We cannot speak with any authority as to the feeling of the majority of these retailers; but we can speak with authority as to the feeling of the great majority of the sponsoring leaders of independent grocers in Group formation, and this covers both jobber-sponsored Groups and retailer-owned Groups. This effort standing on the agenda of this organization is a distinct threat to all independent grocery Group organizations and a particular threat to NROG because of its dominant size and position. No one interested in the independent grocery field can take any position other than that the monopolistic trends of the chain stores should be curbed, but taxation is not the proper method by which to do this."

Independent Trade Paper Opposes Tax on Chain Companies

DR. POGUE HEARD BY MURRAY LIONS

College Men's Quartet, Under Direction of Prof. L. R. Putnam, Presents Several Numbers

The Murray Lions club in its regular weekly meeting, Tuesday evening, at the National Hotel, heard Dr. F. C. Pogue, Murray State College, discuss the European war situation. The college men's quartet, under the direction of Prof. L. R. Putnam, presented several numbers which were well received by the Lions.

The assembly, accompanied at the piano by L. R. Putnam, sang appropriate songs which were followed by the invocation by S. A. Ruskier. During the dinner hour routine business was transacted. Mrs. C. S. Lowry and Mrs. G. C. Ashcraft, members of the Training School Mother's Club, spoke briefly on the proposed hot war project for the Training School and asked cooperation from the club. The matter was referred to the Boys and Girls committee of the group which will give a report of its findings at an early date.

Fred Shultz read letters from children in the county who had been greatly benefited by the club's Sight Conservation program. The children, recipients of glasses, expressed their sincere thanks to the Murray Lions for the opportunity of again attending school and being able to study without ill effects to their eyes.

Bryan Tolley introduced Ralph Wear to the group as a new member of the club. Wear was named publicity director of the Murray organization.

Dr. Charles Hire, in introducing the guest speaker of the evening, said members of the Murray Lions club would feel the year incomplete without having heard Dr. Pogue discuss the European war situation.

Dr. Pogue, using certain historical highlights as seen in the recent movie, "The Ramp

More Than 200 Expected For Ohio Valley Conference Here

NOTED SPEAKERS ON WORLD AFFAIRS TO APPEAR HERE

College Students from Ohio, West Va. and Kentucky To Attend

LOCAL CITIZENS ARE URGED TO ATTEND

The Ohio Valley Conference, of the International Relations Clubs of Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia, will take over on the Murray campus starting tomorrow for a two-day session.

Already many of the delegates from the various college campuses have started arriving, and the number of representatives should exceed 200 by the time the opening session gets underway tomorrow morning. Dr. Forrest C. Pogue, who is in charge of arrangements, said today.

Dr. Pogue also urged all persons in Murray or this section that are interested in the recent developments in international politics to attend some of these meetings to hear the outstanding array of speakers arranged for this occasion. A special banquet tomorrow night will give Murray citizens and students as well as delegates a chance to meet the distinguished guests personally and talk informally with them. Reservations must be made by getting in touch with Dr. Pogue, or Shirley Castle, Student Organization president, who is assisting in the arrangements.

Dr. Clyde Eagleton, professor of international law at New York University, is one of the outstanding speakers, and with his wide experience in international affairs, should deliver an interesting lecture. An accomplished speaker, Dr. Eagleton has frequently visited Europe and at present is the chairman of the United States National Committee on International Affairs. He has also lectured extensively under the Carnegie Endowment, which is the sponsor of International Relations Clubs throughout the Americas.

Dr. Josef L. Kunz, distinguished international lawyer who recently became a citizen of the United States, is also scheduled to appear on the program Dr. Pogue said. At present Dr. Kunz is a lecturer on international law at Toledo University.

The last of the important personages to appear, but by no means the least attractive is Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, division assistant in the Carnegie Endowment and in charge of International Relations Clubs of America. Student forums or round-tables will take up most of the time of the delegates, as extensive work has been done by the delegates on various subjects, in order to get a better result out of the discussions. Powers and Policies of the Orient, The Western Hemisphere, Imperialism, and Democracy are the topics chosen for the round-table discussions.

Parker Infant Dies

Diana Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Parker, Jr., died at 7 p. m., Friday, November 8, at the Keys-Houston Clinic about 16 hours from birth. Brief funeral services were held at 10 a. m. at the City Cemetery with Rev. J. H. Thurman in charge.

The child is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Parker, Jr., and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Parker, Sr., Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hargrove, Mayfield.

Murray is birthplace of Radio.

New County Board Member

LEE DONELSON

Pictured above is Lee Donelson, Dexter, who November 7, was elected to the Calloway County Board of Education, succeeding E. B. Adams, Kirksby, who was chairman of the board.

Donelson, long an outstanding Calloway citizen and well-known throughout Western Kentucky, received 63 more votes than did his opponent who is now serving his seventh year on the board. Donelson wishes to thank his many friends for their support during his campaign, and added that he wishes to fulfill the wishes of the entire Fourth District, and welcomes any suggestions.

CHESTNUT STREET PROJECT GOES AT FULL SPEED NOW

Pouring of Concrete Already Underway on West End 'Near Five Points'

SHOULD BE FINISHED BY FIRST OF THE YEAR

One of the last few Murray "motorists headaches" - Chestnut Street, from New Fourth at Outland's Factory to North Sixteenth at Five Points, is fast undergoing a face-lifting and by the first of January, it should be ready for the heavy traffic it will undoubtedly get when finished.

Workers are laboring night and day in an effort to get the road completed before the weather becomes too bad to work further. Barring bad weather, officials estimate that the project may be completed by the first of January.

When this street is finished it should greatly aid the congested traffic in downtown Murray, as all the through traffic on the Mayfield Highway will be directed down Chestnut Street, instead of through town, while the heavy traffic on the Paris Highway may find a better way toward Paducah, by coming through at Twelfth Street until it intersects with Chestnut Street.

At the present time, plans are seriously being considered to do something about the condition of Olive Boulevard - the last remaining traffic menace in Murray, but it is rather difficult to get a plan mapped out - city officials say. Olive Boulevard is not in the corporate limits, and the road is also not on the state primary system.

North Seventh Street is also receiving a coat of concrete, and WPA workers hope to have this street in good shape before too long.

Throughout the past two years, the Chamber of Commerce of Murray faithfully and untiringly led a fight for better streets, and most of the improvement made is due to a wide-awake city board plus the co-operating Chamber of Commerce, under energetic, enthusiastic, and ingenious Elmus Beale, local group secretary.

Murray Power Too Much For West Tennessee—Score 35-6 Saturday

Too much Murray power was released in the last half of the Homecoming game here last Saturday for West Tennessee Teachers to cope with, and the Tutors fell over from exhaustion in the last quarter as Murray ran up a 35-6 score.

The Tutors played the Racers on nearly even terms for two quarters, but tired rapidly in the third period, and the fourth were merely out on the field, as Murray reserves delighted a Homecoming crowd immensely.

Murray scored early in the ball game, with Inman carrying the ball over, Lee and LaBonte had aided Inman in bringing the ball to the 3-yard line. Speth's kick was good.

Late in the second period, Preston Watts uncorked a long pass to Hindman, and the Memphis and went over for the tying touchdown, but Calhoun's kick was blocked.

Murray's second touchdown came late in the third period, with Inman again going over, after Carl Steffins had set up the score with an end-around play that carried the ball across for the touchdown.

Early in the fourth quarter, Ferrara scored for Murray, a pass from Nannoy to Salmons to McGarvey had netted 47 yards to the 2-yard stripe. The junior fullback also kicked the extra point.

The Racers stormed touchdown territory later, when Nannoy on runs of 7, 44, 3, and 5 yards carried the ball across for the touchdown. Bob Perkins kicked the extra point, as Nannoy was forced.

J. M. Thomas' Home Made Press Will Be Shown At Varsity

A motion picture short subject showing the amazing home-constructed newspaper press on which James M. Thomas publishes the Model (Tenn.) Star, will be shown Saturday and Sunday at the Varsity Theatre.

Every part of the press is hand made. The cylinder is constructed from an old porch column, while the sliding part of the press operates on skate wheels and a part of a buggy wheel.

The picture has been shown all over the country in connection with the Universal Film series, "Strange As It Seems". Copies of the four page paper printed on the press are sent, all over the world as souvenirs.

McCord Child Dies Saturday

Netta June McCord, five month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCord, died Saturday night at the home of her parents on Pine Street. Death came as a result of premature birth. Funeral services were held from the First Christian Church Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. with the Rev. A. V. Havens in charge. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

The infant is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCord; her grandparents, Mrs. Fred Burton, Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. McCord, Christian County; her great grandmother, Mrs. William Bailey, Murray, and one sister and three brothers.

PARADE, SPEECHES MARK ARMISTICE DAY IN MURRAY

Murray Band, Legionnaires Stage Parade in Morning Around Square

HALL HOOD IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Armistice Day in Murray was celebrated quietly but resolutely Monday, as a brisk chilly wind whipped the flags lining the court-square.

Only banks and the post office observed the holiday by closing their doors, as the fall term of circuit court got underway.

A parade including the colors, the Murray High School band and Legionnaires took over near eleven o'clock. After the parade the group gathered to hear the Rev. R. Hall Hood, a Legionnaire and prominent Murray attorney speak on "Americanism".

The local theatre, as its part in the Armistice program, ran its entire subject on this theme—featuring the "Ramparts We Watch", a March of Time, and a Red Cross short subject.

The annual Red Cross Roll Call, under local leaders, was also started Monday.

An outward calm pervaded through the entire day in Murray.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
The Rev. K. G. Dunn announces that the Rev. Luther E. Shafer will preach at South Pleasant Grove Methodist Church, Sunday, November 17, at 11 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TURKEY TALK IS IN THE AIR AGAIN

Thanksgiving In State Due To Be Held In One Week, November 21

With Thanksgiving in two-thirds of the nation, including Kentucky, only one week off, most thoughts center on the traditional turkey dinner that graces the tables of so many American homes.

Therefore, the best method of preparing turkeys, as advised by Lucy Alexander, U. S. Department of Agriculture expert, is of special interest.

Says Miss Alexander: "A moderate oven, a shallow, uncovered pan, and a rack are all the properties needed for success in roasting young turkey, the modern way."

Miss Alexander advises roasting the turkey in an uncovered pan, because then any steam that is formed in cooking is not closed in the roaster to draw the juices. There should be a rack in the pan to keep the bird from sticking and to allow the hot air to circulate under the turkey, and cook it evenly.

Any pan is suitable for roasting if it is shallow and if it is big enough for the turkey. A shallow pan works best because in it the air circulates under the bird more rapidly than in a deep pan. To keep the meat juicy, do not add water in the cooking to form extra steam. Keep the oven temperature moderate all through the roasting so the turkey will be tender and evenly cooked when done.

Roast medium sized turkeys at about 300 degrees F. for from three to four hours. Very large turkeys, over 18 pounds in weight, need to be roasted from 6 to 8 hours at from 250 to 275 degrees F.

To make sure of even cooking, turn the turkey from side to side and have it breast up about one-third of the time. At each turning, baste with fat. Small and medium-sized turkeys need to be turned about every half hour to three-quarters of an hour, larger turkeys less frequently.

Frosh Tackle Western Friday

Murray State's Yearlings, still seeking for a win over some close their season tomorrow in Bowling Green, playing the junior Hilltoppers in the usual pre-varsity skirmish.

The Yearlings were tied by Pensacola, Fla. Naval Academy, a team that decisively defeated Austin Pay, the Western varsity's opponent this week, and lost a heart-breaker to Southwestern's Bobcats 14-13.

The junior Toppers, who are coached by Arnold Winkenhof, took Tennessee Tech's Frosh 34-0, as Vic Rucker, former Ashland High star and a recent recruit from William & Mary, did more than his share of ball-playing.

There are now 550 junior colleges in U. S.

FIRE TAKES FUN FROM HOLIDAYS

More Than 1,000 Persons Annually Lose Lives Fires During Christmas

Should America's fatality toll from burns the December equal that of previous years, more than 1,000 persons, or more than in any other month of the year, will be burned to death in the Christmas weeks.

Four-fifths of the fatalities, in previous years, have occurred in home all over the nation. According to a bulletin issued by the National Conservation Bureau, the Christmas month may be safe without detracting in any degree from its enjoyment. Many families who guard against the hazard of tinder-dry Christmas trees fail to observe other, less apparent, fire precautions. Here are some safety suggestions which may help this December:

- 1—Candles and wrappings from packages should be disposed of immediately, and not be allowed to collect around the house. Those not immediately disposed of should be stored in a safe place.
- 2—in selecting toys for young children, avoid gifts having fire or explosive hazards.
- 3—Toys will not dry out so rapidly, and will preserve a fresher appearance, if places in stands provided with water basins.
- 4—Be sure the lights on the trees are safe. If the lights are old examine them before using for any defects. Don't go out of the house and leave the lights burning.
- 5—Dead Christmas trees should not be kept in the house after the holiday season; remove them to a safe place and burn.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The meeting is progressing nicely. Brother Pullias has been doing some very fine preaching along fundamental lines. He is a profound believer in the inspiration and sufficiency of the Scriptures in all things pertaining to life and Godliness. He thinks that if a thing is not taught of God it is not worth one's effort or time, insofar as pleasing God is concerned. Brother Pullias is a man of great depth of thought and wisdom. God seems to have showed his choicest blessings on him in the way of understanding and speaking ability. His preaching is such as to thrill the heart of every spiritually minded auditor.

We appreciate the visitors who have had so far and extend a most hearty invitation to the public.

It's Time To Clean House

The reading of an editorial appearing in a recent issue of the Courier-Journal entitled "The Time to Purify Local Politics," brings us to grips with a vital problem. Calloway County—Murray least of all, has not been greatly affected by the Hatch Act; designed to eliminate slush funds, assessment of public employees, and corrupt city machines, but there has been slight repercussions in our community now that the election is over.

The bond issue was voted in overwhelmingly. This newspaper is proud to shout to the rooftops that we championed its cause—that parks and playgrounds and a system of organized play is needed in Murray. One without politics, or one without personal designs or gains.

Soon Mayor George Hart will announce his Park or Playground Commission, and this group will designate a locality for the playground, and then start the building of it.

Let's not let any petty injustices come into this—it's all being done for the future citizens of Murray. A few of you voted against the issue. It was your privilege, but that will not prevent your children from enjoying the advantages of the program.

Maybe you had a good reason for voting "No" . . . But by the vote there evidently was a greater number who had reasons for voting "Yes" . . . The point is this: the entire program is going to depend upon the loyal co-operation of every Murray citizen.

We're proud of a city administration that is free from graft, corruption, or one who would get a lot of fun handling funds earmarked for the children's benefit. Murray citizens are free from any machine-controlled group that can put its finger down and say "We want this park built here," or "Buy all your supplies from such-and-such a house as they will give me a rake-off or rebate."

With this in mind Murray citizens have constantly kept a loyal and efficient city board in control. Should any graft or corruption creep into any of the city's dealings—then it's time to clean house.

We're not like a lot of Kentucky's towns—absolutely controlled by one man or one group—but ours is a rich and thriving heritage, from every citizen in Murray comes thanks for a City Administration that has enabled Murray to go forward in leaps and bounds.

Progress or Die

Competition is perhaps more intense in the retail business than in any other field. Monopoly in retailing died with the old-fashioned small-town "general store" which was the only store in its community, and which you had to patronize whether you liked it or not. Today keen competition exists in all branches of retailing.

The biggest beneficiary is the consumer who is trying to get the most for his money, and to get the quality he is paying for. A first-class example of this is a new policy put into effect by one of the country's largest food chains.

This chain's newspaper advertising to the buyer in specific cities, says: Purchase and cook any cut of meat. Judge it for tenderness, juiciness, flavor or anything else. If for any reason at all you are disappointed, simply write your name and address on a piece of paper, attach it to your cash register receipt for your purchase and return it to the store. Your money will be refunded in full.

That is an example of how one chain system, which happens to deal in foods, has worked out a new idea for bettering its service to the people. All over the country other stores, chain and independent alike, are constantly doing the same thing. Many a retail executive and store owner spends sleepless nights figuring out ways and means to lower costs, to improve displays, to make better use of advertising—to do any and all the things that will make the family dollar go farther.

Retail business must go ahead today, or die. It can't stand still for inertia leads swiftly to retrogression. And all America lives better as a result.

Battle of the Empire

The "Battle of Britain" is at least temporarily slowing in tempo. The "Battle of the Empire" has begun. Starting point was Italy's invasion of Greece.

Whoever controls Greece, its islands, and its many undeveloped sea and naval and submarine bases, largely controls the Mediterranean—Mussolini's "Mare nostrum." The Italian attack on Greece is obviously designed as the first step in a carefully planned Axis effort to destroy Britain's influence in that area. If that attempt should succeed, the Axis would have taken a long step toward eventual victory in the war.

Whether it will succeed is the question now. Best answers seem to be that it will fail. For one thing, the Italians, as in the past, have shown themselves to be poor fighters—the pathetically small and ill-equipped Greek army has made the going plenty tough for Italy's warriors. For another thing, it looks now as if Russia is none too happy about present Axis moves, and may be preparing to resist them.

For a third thing, the British navy is still the best navy in Europe, by a tremendous margin. Italian naval forces have steadfastly avoided meeting their English enemy, even when they had the advantage in number and size of ships. Amusing commentary on this is found in a story which has been making the rounds in London. Every navy, the story runs, has its own favorite drink! The English prefer gin, the Americans take whiskey, and the Italians stick to port!

Some Early History

By JOHN WRIGHT HOLSAFPLE

One of the early roads of Calloway county ran from Concord to Wadesboro. The latter town grew from a settlement made by Bannister Wade whose names was given to the creek and the town—Wade's Creek and Wadesboro. Wade made it a permanent settlement on West Fork in 1820. Samuel Watson settled in that community about the same time. Soon came William Smith, William Derrington, William Chester, William Sutherland, William McElrath, William Curd, William Jones, William Edwards, William McWay, William Eastley and possibly other Williams. Most of those whose cognomens were William were called "Bills" or plain Bill. I heard of one Bill Goat who married a woman whose given name was Nannie. Their names got into the papers as Billy Goat and Nannie Goat.

Wadesboro was near the center of the county. A land office with Edmund Curd as receiver was opened there by legislative enactment in 1822, and Wadesboro soon became the leading town in all that section. It was the county seat until Marshall county was organized in 1842. When this took place it left part of Wadesboro, the county seat, in each county. It was several months before the new county seat was located at Murray. When it was located it was named in honor of John L. Murray, a leading lawyer of that section who later went to Congress. The commissioners who effected a permanent organization of the county of Calloway were John Bell, Arthur H. Davis, Thomas Hill, Thomas Copeland, William Hill, Banester Wade, William Rowlett, Lindsay Martin, John Hedge and George Tucker. These constituted the first county court with William Curd as clerk. The first Sheriff (appointed by Gov. Adair) was William Duncan. The court house erected was a temporary structure, but in 1830-31 they erected a brick one which was two stories high and thirty-six feet square. It contained a court room and the usual offices for county officers. The first term of court held therein was in 1831. This court house was used as a place of public worship before any churches were built.

Judges James M. McElrath and John Bearden and Reuben Rowland were associate judges. Benjamin Patterson and James Breathitt were admitted to the bar.

The county had been carved out of Hickman and named for Col. Richard M. Calloway, a noted lawyer. It embraced all of Marshall and parts of Caldwell and Livingston. Land was put on the market at $12 an acre for the best and twelve and one-half cents for the poorest.

The new court house was furnished with "A" judges' bench three feet high, three feet wide and twelve feet long, one large bench for the jury, and one seat for the use of the counsel. Public roads were opened to Wadesboro from all directions. A ferry was established at Clark's river on the road to the Tennessee. Wadesboro was a good sized town when Paducah was incorporated as a village in 1830. The whole Jackson's Purchase was coming into note. By the way Gov. Isaac Shelby of Kentucky and President Andrew Jackson of USA had bought from the Indians all that territory. It has since been known as Jackson's Purchase.

Settlers had been flowing in via flat boats and wagons from upper Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, The Carolinas, and even from far away Pennsylvania. Among the early settlers was my own Grandfather Holsafple of whose settlement between Concord and Wadesboro I will speak in my next letter.

Wadesboro's fate has been more tragic than has that of Concord. It has almost lost its identity. It began its decline when the railroad was established but reached a climax after the rail road went by a few miles east and Dexter and Hardin were established. Wadesboro was abandoned a few years ago without recognizing it. I went in from the West—the old Mayfield route. Passed the old Covington hotel and down the hill East without knowing where I was. I stopped to enquire the way to Wadesboro. The lady of whom I enquired looked at me in disgust and said "You passed it right up there on the hill." Wadesboro was the home of such distinguished citizens and statesmen as John L. Murray (for whom the town of Murray was named), Nathan Bowman, Linn Boyd (who was at one time Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives), and others whose names adorn our history books. There were two churches, there were two schools, there were two Baptist and Baptist. I have preached there myself.

Fiddler's Contest

Planned for Lynn Grove Turkey Day

Professor Buron "Boots" Jeffrey, principal of Lynn Grove High School, announced this week that as a generous topping-off to Turkey Day festivities, Thursday, November 21, which happens to be Thanksgiving this year, the Lynn Grove High School will present an Old-Time Fiddler's Contest starting at 7 o'clock.

A long and attractive list of cash and merchandise prizes is being offered, and Jeffrey reports that a record number of musicians and entertainers will participate in the fun.

GREAT LOVER RETURNS

You're right! It's John Barrymore . . . madder, wilder and funnier than ever before in "The Great Profile," which preview audiences have already tabbed as the laugh riot of the year. Barrymore's latest starring picture for 20th Century-Fox has its local premiere on Tuesday and Wednesday at the Varsity Theatre.

WHO OWNS THE COURTHOUSE?

This is one building in the city of Murray that every taxpayer in Calloway County has an interest in. This building belongs to all of us. The condition of this building depends to a large extent upon how we care for it. This building has recently been decorated both inside and out. We are sponsoring a campaign to keep it looking clean. All the floors are being scrubbed and cleaned. Signs are being posted regarding spitting on the floors.

Spitting spreads diseases of many kinds. It also makes the walls and floors very filthy. This nuisance can only be eliminated by all persons cooperating together. Please help us reduce this public health problem and nuisance. Remember these are your floors and your building. You wouldn't spit on your floor in your own home, so help us keep our Courthouse floor looking its very best.

There are already black scratches and foot-prints on the newly cleaned walls. We are sure that these things were done thoughtlessly, but nevertheless it makes the walls look bad.

Will all persons cooperate with your janitor, janitors, and the Health Department to make your building the pride of Murray and Calloway County?

I love November because it tells the world a fashion-in gay colors and because it is the month for gathering "hickory nuts, walnuts and acorns; for searching among fallen leaves for the last red haws; for seeing "gandering turkeys fill out for Thanksgiving; for making "simmon, "tater, and locust beer for harvest parties; for cutting and piling wood high for winter nights; for grinding late apples into golden cider; for wringing tall broomsage for winter brooms; for digging soft, smooth white mud from the cool banks of a stream for my fireplace; for filling the box with fat possums; for picking and washing "goobers" for winter nights; for stringing ears of red and "yellow popcorn to dry; for filling barrels with golden new cane syrup; for rising early to see the first white killing frosts. It is the month to know that God loves country people and pays us for the days of labor given. Fittingly is it the month in which we give thanks for His lavish hand. These things I love.

Treon Experiment Results in "One Year, One Cow"

Ray Treon purchased a registered Jersey cow for $65.00 last of September 1939, and milked her for a period of 303 days, or ten months, which is as long as a cow should be milked if she is to freshen once each year.

Mr. Treon had to buy all the feed that this cow ate, since she was kept on a town lot which was two-thirds of an acre and afforded no pasture except during the months of April, May and June. During the year the feed cost $85.00. Mr. Treon weighed the milk, even though it was used by the family, and figured the price as though it was sold at the milk plant at regular route price, which ranged from 34c to 37c for the year. The income from milk was $142.84 which has this cow producing in a year an income above feed cost of $57.84, which lacked $7.22 paying for the cow the first year. This record does not take in the value of the calf or manure.

On an average farm where most of the feed is produced, Mr. Treon said, the cost of feeding would be materially decreased, thus, a good cow cared for in the right way will make an excellent income on any farm.

Boyd Champion, 4-H Club Member of Concord, Successful in Dairy Calf Project

Boyd Champion, 4-H Club member of New Concord community, has turned in his record books for 1940 giving his story of his dairy calf project which was started last December.

Boyd purchased two Jersey heifers from the calves imported from W. L. Gore and Sons of Hopkinsville, at total cost of $115.00. Those two heifers have returned him in the year $117.00, above feed cost and other expenses. Both heifers brought heifer calves, which are included in the income even though they are still in Boyd's possession.

This is Boyd's first experience with registered or pure bred dairy cattle, and it is a fine record that he has made his first-year, dairy official's state. To date his herd consists of the two original heifers and two yearling heifers, all registered, which gives him a foundation for a real dairy business in the future.

To finance this project Boyd had to borrow the money and through his county agent made arrangements with Production Credit Association of Mayfield, and during the year from milk, checks and winnings at the County Fair, Boyd has paid obligations in full and now has his herd free of indebtedness. Boyd went at this in a business like manner and has succeeded in doing an excellent job. County Agent Cochran said.

Realizing that his cows had to have corn and feed, he also took the 4-H Club-Corn Project, and grew 1-2 acre of hybrid corn and another 1-2 acre of corn they have always grown on the home place.

His record book for this project shows that the average yield for yearling corn was 24 bu. per acre and that the native corn only made 19 bushels. Thus, again demonstrating Boyd's interest in better corn to go along with improved live stock.

Boyd was married to Anna Wells Janu. 14, 1936. Departed this life Oct. 18, 1940; age 76 years, 1 month and 27 days.

This union was blessed with 4 sons, Rupert, Joe and Jesse Wells Lassiter and one died in infancy. He was one of a family of ten children, of which one sister, Mrs. Ella Thornton, and one brother, Burnett Lassiter, survive.

He professed faith in Christ and joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Cherry Corner when a young man. He was faithful and loyal to his church and the cause, and was a man of gentle, sympathetic and submissive spirit. As a father and husband he was kind and true. In his public work and life he was honorable and courteous.

In his going he leaves his wife, 3 sons and their wives, 4 grandsons, 2 granddaughters, 1 granddaughter-in-law, 1 sister, 1 brother, several nieces and nephews and many relatives and friends.

While we feel that we have sustained a great loss, indeed, we believe our loss is his gain.

The Man Who Chased the Tough Men From Oklahoma is A Calloway Native

Col. E. D. Nix Cleaned Up Territory For Settlement

This is the tale of a living, breathing Calloway county man who chased the bad hombres out of Oklahoma. The name of this outlaw-exterminator is Col. E. D. Nix, undoubtedly one of the most colorful figures developed in a red-blooded, lawless era.

But in order to best appreciate and understand the feats of this man, who was born here in Calloway county, it is well to briefly review the years during which he served as U. S. Marshal of the Oklahoma Territory.

"Build-Up" Relief

Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering. It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea are due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

entirely unprotected by legal authority.

This territory, with its mountain fastness hiding places and its rolling prairies, became the haven of outlaws and fugitives from justice. But this scene changed with the opening of the Oklahoma Territory in April, 1889. The last frontier was becoming colonized—and to a great extent by respectable people.

The cattle kings were losing the paradise of their flocks and herds while outlaws were menaced by the long arm of the law. These outlaws reinforced themselves in their most secluded places and were joined by a few disgruntled cowboys who had fallen for the tales of easy money in outlawing.

To these desperadoes human life was very cheap and a path of murder, fire and robbery was cut by the many God-less bands across the Territory. The safety and even the lives of respectable settlers in the Territory was threatened. It was in an effort to end this lawlessness that Col. Nix, then a storekeeper, was named U. S. Marshal of the section by President Grover Cleveland.

Born on the East side of this county in 1881, young Nix was reared in a county that had gone through some strenuous Civil War experiences, although as he says in his book "Oklahombres," he was too young to have more than a hazy recollection of those days.

But such experiences were a mere preview or preparation for the career that lay ahead of him. One of the events which, according to Col. Nix, lives most vividly in his memory was the first legal hanging ever held in Calloway county. A man named Pud Diggs had led a marauding band of guerrillas during the war and, upon being captured, was condemned to die by hanging.

A special scaffold was constructed in an open field near Murray and county folks—white and black—flew miles around gathered to die by hanging.

Scaffold Constructed

A special scaffold was constructed in an open field near Murray and county folks—white and black—flew miles around gathered to die by hanging.

Young Nix remained in Kentucky and Calloway county until early manhood when the lure of possible wealth and adventure to be found in the new Territory of Oklahoma aroused his romantic instincts. When he arrived in Oklahoma he was met with stories about the exploits of desperadoes that exacted their living from the peaceful settlers. The most notorious group then operating in the West was the James boys who rivaled even the James boys in the viciousness of their plundering. Up to 1892 the terrorizing of Bob, Emmett, Grant and Bill Dalton and their itchy-fingered gunmen, Bill Doolin, Dick Broadwell and Bill Powers, had been confined to Kansas.

Amblition Gets The Daltons

How three of the Daltons fell victims of their own ambition and died attempting to rob two banks in their native town of Coffeyville, Kansas, is history. Only Bill Dalton and Bill Doolin survived the bullets of the brave Kansas men. With the Daltons dead, Bill Doolin escaped pursuing posse and moved into Oklahoma. One in the Territory he had no trouble in forming a new gang and soon had one again taken up his briefly interrupted reign of terrorism. Included in the Doolin lineup were George Newcomb, Bill Ralston, Dick West, Otis Yountis and "Arkansas Tom" Daugherty—names that struck fear into the hearts of peace-loving settlers. Later, Bill Dalton made his way to Oklahoma and joined the gang.

Needless to say this new outlaw gang surpassed the exploits of their predecessors in the ferocity and viciousness of their raids. Meanwhile, Nix had settled himself and his wife in Guthrie and had opened a prosperous furniture business. But when the raids of the outlaws became almost unbearable, he was appointed U. S. Marshal of the Territory by President Cleveland. The role of U. S. Marshal in frontier Oklahoma was regarded as the equivalent of a death notice and upon the youthful shoulders of this Kentuckian was placed the gigantic task of bringing these marauders to justice.

His first official act was to surround himself with a trusted organization of deputies and to perfect a fighting group. As his assistants he chose men whose names will forever live in the memory of Oklahoma—Bill Tilghman, Chipp Madison, Heck Thomas, Frank Canton, John Hixon, Tom Mix. To this band was issued the first (and only) blanket order to "bring 'em in dead or alive."

And bring 'em in is what Col. Nix and his deputies did. The space allotted to this yarn does not permit a detailed account of how, during the first five years of his term, practically every outlaw still at large was slain or captured and rewarded for his deeds by speedy justice.

So, it was nothing of an overstatement that Col. Nix was given recognition by both the nation and state government as being the man who made Oklahoma tenable for God-fearing, peace-loving homesteaders.

Had Other Feats, Also

But aside from his role as peace-officer, Col. Nix looks back over a career that has been colorful as it has been full. A shot from his gun launched the gigantic rush of more than 100,000 settlers into the Cherokee strip in 1893. For a time he toured with the late Will Rogers during the cowboy humorist's nationwide charity drives.

The old adage, full lives makes good reading, is certainly proven in Col. Nix. Last year he assisted with the filming of the motion picture, "When The Daltons Rode". At present Col. Nix is residing in Los Angeles and hopes to be able to make it back to Calloway county to visit relatives and friends sometime later this year.

MHS GLEE CLUB HEARD IN CHAPEL

Other Performances To Come During The School Year

The Murray High School glee club presented a musical program in chapel, Friday, November 10.

The program was opened with a demonstration by Mr. Inglis to show the value of having a director. He explained that a director was not standing up on the stage to mar the view, or frantically waving his arms in order to get his daily exercise, but for the purpose of regulating time and of controlling volume and expression.

Then using the glee club to demonstrate in an unheated performance he showed the results of following the director.

After this short introduction, the following numbers were rendered by the glee club: "The Snow", Edward Elgar; "The Little French Clock", Richard Kountz; and "My Moonlight Madonna", Fibich-Scotti-Breck.

The program was very instructive as well as entertaining. It will be followed by other performances from time to time during the year.

Fidels Class Has Party

The Friday afternoon club met last week with Mrs. E. J. Beale with members and one guest, Mrs. K. C. Frazee, present. The game was played on three tables and prizes awarded Mrs. G. B. Scott and Mrs. Joe T. Lovett for first and second high respectively. Mrs. Frazee was presented a gift.

A delightful salad plate was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the game.

Back and Thimble, Stitch and Chatter, Meet With Mrs. Baker

Mrs. Joe Baker was joint hostess Thursday afternoon to the Book and Thimble and Stitch and Chatter Clubs at her home on Main St. The patriotic motif was carried out in the decorations and in the delightful party plate which was served at the conclusion of the afternoon. The hours were spent in new work and conversation.

Members present included Mrs. Vester Orr, Mrs. Lena Watkins, Mrs. Claude Miller, Mrs. Myrtle Farmer, Mrs. Carroll Lassiter, Mrs. Owen West, Mrs. Luther Jackson, Mrs. Hub Dunn, Mrs. Herman Ross, Mrs. Dewey Jones, Mrs. Carl King, Mrs. Bryan Tolley, Mrs. Viron Beard, Mrs. Ollie Chambers, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. C. E. Hale. Additional guests were Mrs. Burr Waters of Paducah and Mrs. R. W. Key.

Coldwater Woman's Missionary Society Meets

The Missionary Society of the Coldwater Baptist Church, which was organized recently, met Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with nine members present. The program for the afternoon was as follows:

Hyman, "What a Friend"; Scripture reading, Mrs. Stephen Cobb; devotional, Mrs. Novis Rogers; talk, "Lord, Teach Us to Pray," Mrs. Stephen Cobb; talk, "Prayer Available Much," Mrs. Alpha Cude; talk, "Something We Need to Pray For Now," Mrs. Inez Cobb.

The Missionary society will meet on Wednesday after first Sunday in each month.

The club invites each and every member to attend.

Hunt-LaBonte Wedding Is Announced This Week

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Hunt, of Chicago, Illinois, are this week announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Nancy Lee Hunt, a senior in Murray State College, to Francis LaBonte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dona LaBonte, Jewett City, Connecticut.

The marriage took place on Thursday, October the twelfth, in South Fulton, Tennessee, with the Rev. S. A. McDade officiating. They were attended by Miss Leila Belle Prather, of Union City, Tenn., and Bob Salmon, of Beloit, Wisconsin.

The bride is an active co-ed on

WHY OLDS' HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE IS SO DIFFERENT AND IN A CLASS BY ITSELF!

Ordinary "new drives" are based on the principle of fluid coupling. Oldsmobile's exclusive Hydra-Matic Drive is a combination of fluid coupling and completely automatic transmission. It eliminates clutch and clutch pedal. It does away with the gear shifter. It provides a special fourth speed for cruising. It gives you a special pick-up gear for passing other cars and climbing steep hills. The "no clutch, no shift" Hydra-Matic Drive is optional at extra cost on all Olds models for 1941. Try it...there's nothing else like it in the world!

the purpose of organizing a 4-H Club. The junior high group elected part of their officers. Those named were Miss Frankie Nell Falwell, president; Gene Orr Miller, vice-president; and Miss Leila Grey Brandon, secretary-treasurer. They plan to elect the rest of the officers at our regular monthly meeting in December. We hope to have a very successful club, and plan to work very hard.

The seniors gave a party Tuesday night. A large crowd was in attendance and every one had a nice time.

We have started to work on our year books this week and are all real busy, but we don't mind working something we're sure will be a success. We are pleased with our new class rings. We decided on our invitations, also, which are very attractive.

Our school was certainly proud to receive the $70 that was given for the election of the school that had the greatest percentage of registered voters to go to the polls and cast their ballots for their favorite candidate. We can surely use the money to an advantage.

Here's some more 4-H Club news. All the officers of the club as a whole were elected. They are as follows: president, Mildred Clayton; vice-president, Dorothy Mason; secretary, Ila Grey Nesbitt. The remaining officials will be elected at the next meeting and also a decision for the name of our club will be made. Because of the lack of time the club isn't fully organized, but after our next meeting we hope to get started in a big way. This is "gonna" be the best 4-H Club year in Hazel's history.

A few days ago the seventh and eighth grades were in a contest for selling election subscriptions to the "Farmer's Wife" and the "Farmer's Journal". Our leaders were: for the seventh grade, A. H. McClellan, and for the eighth grade, Sonny White. The eighth grade defeated the seventh. All members of the eighth grade received individual prizes and the seventh grade got a ball and bat.

Sunny Tennessee News

"Jack Frost" visited us last week and it has changed the leaves and grass to different colors. The winter days are almost here to stay for a while. I guess if we could have our way about the weather, we would just want warm days all the time.

Quite a bit of work is yet to be done here with cotton and corn in the field and most of the wood on the stump. Most everyone that raised tobacco around here has a different color crop and you may see several different colors in the same barn. Perhaps one of the colors will suit the buyers this year.

Some moving is taking place at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Williams, of near Providence, moved Thursday to the former houses of the Albrittons, the place occupied by Warlick Hutson year before last. Errett Williams will occupy the Housden farm where his father moved from, next year. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Niece were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Errett Williams, Sunday.

Henry Hutson and Charlie Williams killed some nice porkers last week. I expect several folks were glad of it, including myself. I think the gravy bowls at most of the houses around here were the grayer without any meat.

We were sorry to hear of the falling health of Alford Downey.

19 MSTC Students Are Named For "Who's Who"

Nineteen students have been selected to represent Murray State College in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Nominations were made by the heads of departments, professors, and the student council.

Selections from the nominees by elimination were made by Mrs. Cleo Gillis Hester, registrar; Miss Jane Haselden, dean of women; W. M. Caudill, dean of men; and Shirley Castle, president of the student organization.

Selections from the senior class are: Shirley Castle, Stanford; Dewey H. Jones, Benton; Joe L. Banken, Owensboro; James R. Woodall, Princeton; Wilson Gantt, Murray; Byron Holloway, Kuttawa; Jack Herpy, Ashland, O.; William, Louis, Walters, Eadsburg; Mary Anna Jenkins, Greenville; Mary Elizabeth Roberts, Murray; Nell Wright, Bruceton, Tenn.; Ann Quirey, Clay; Odine Swann, Lynn Grove.

From the junior class: Carl Eugene Walker, Providence; Peter Paul Koss, Moosup, Conn.; Kathleen M. Winter, Fulton; Janie Kathryn Gohsen, Birmingham; Mary Marie Clodfelter, Paducah; Annie Lou Roberts, Mayfield.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your rough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Cromolium which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Cromolium blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested ingredients for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Cromolium with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

LET'S GET THIS STRAIGHT!

During the past year, a great deal has been printed and said in automobile circles about new "drives" for the 1941 model cars. As a result, many people have come to Oldsmobile with natural and pertinent questions:

"Are the 'drives' that other manufacturers offer similar to Oldsmobile's Hydra-Matic Drive?"

"If not, how does Hydra-Matic Drive differ from the others?"

In order to clear up any confusion or misunderstanding that may prevail in the public mind, Oldsmobile takes this opportunity to publish the statements of fact at the right!

WHY OLDS' HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE IS SO DIFFERENT AND IN A CLASS BY ITSELF!

WHY OLDS' HYDRA-MATIC

A WORKABLE SYSTEM

The recent developments in the case of Murray State's gridiron gladiators are proving conclusively that it takes more than eleven, even twenty men to win ball games.

In all the Racers games this year—especially in the last two, it has been very noticeable that the Blueblacks are clicking best in the final period, with the so-called "regulars" out of the game, but the simple plan is no secret.

Coch Stewart has always been a great believer in squad strength, rather than team power, and all his great teams have been founded on adequate reserve power.

For three quarters the opposition undergoes a terrific pounding as Murray uses a "team a quarter" idea, then in the final canto, the tide definitely turns toward the "Treds," as their reserves literally run over the tired opposition.

Even in the games which were lost to Louisiana Normal and at Texas and the ties with Murchison and Conway, the Racers were much stronger in the last half. So in the Western game, just take this tip—Western will have to be on top at least three touchdowns, going into the final period to win, and two if the Toppers expect a tie, because Murray will score at least twice in the final period. . . . And as for Middle Tennessee, I'll say six touchdowns to one in favor of the Blueblacks.

SAYING IT WITH GROWLS

The Murray Tiger is hard to get along with these days. Still smarting because they were so hopelessly outclassed against Tilghman, the "Tigers are farin' for work against Russellville, a team that constantly have given them trouble.

And not far from the Bengals minds is the fact that the Grove High game in Paris Turkey Day will determine just how successful this season has been.

When Mayfield High was licked, some said that the High School could quit then and call it a successful year. . . . Evidently most of the boys believed it, because they folded up like an umbrella against Fulton, and the "Treds" blew away when Bowling Green came to town. The Tilghman game was placed in the "lost column" when it was scheduled—the chief reason for playing the Tornado being that the money involved would aid the athletic treasury.

But for those who like to leave the table with a good taste in their mouths, Murray High must beat Russellville convincingly, and then take Grove High. And most of the high school fans are now calling the Mayfield win a "slip-up." Personally we believe the Tigers are good enough to win their last two games, and if no one else breaks a leg, or gets a prima-donna complex, the Tigers should dig their claws in good and deep for the past two contests.

PUNTS AND PASSES

If it's not one headache, it's another for Ty Holland, as now he has been named on the board for the selection to an all-state high school team for Kentucky. Assisting him in the west will be Morgan Christian, coach at Sturgis. . . . For the many who are asking, we repeat that only seniors are eligible for the East-West all-star game in Lexington. . . . Buist Scott and Billy Fair are the Tigers' most likely to get on the western squad, which will be coached by Henry Cochran.

New Concord rates as the country's dark-horse already in basketball. The Redbirds have showed a lot of offensive skill, but still need a lot of defensive work. . . . When Vernon Jones grooms them for Hazel, that game should really be worth watching. . . . And speaking of thrillers, how about that one-point win Kirksey achieved in three overtimes against Almo?

YOU KNOW IT'S GOOD!

GOOD? Just taste it. You can get hours of sunshine brought to your home or office in a bottle of Sunburst milk. You get a doctor's antitoxin against cold germs in the same bottle. And there's an insurance policy to protect your health that goes along with it! Drink at least a quart a day of Sunburst. You'll feel like a million!

Both of those ball clubs must really have something on the ball. . . . Lynn Grove is rapidly being relegated to the lower bracket, as Cuba handed them a neat licking last week-end, but the Jeffrey boys were able to manhandle Faxon. . . . A warning to all Calloway coaches: keep your big boys out of sight of Clifton Thurman, as he may attempt a kidnapping to get more height for his Colts. . . . Murray High may line up with at least two southpaws—Ray Waggoner and Lubie Veale starting. . . .

Lynn Grove High School News

The second six weeks' term passed and everyone is progressing nicely. We can breathe easily now that the exams are over and we haven't "flunked" any of our students. The student body wishes to express our appreciation to the college authorities for the invitation to the football game Saturday, November 2. Many of our students attended the game and enjoyed it very much.

The fall convention of the PTA held at Mayfield Wednesday, November 6, was attended by the following Lynn Grove representatives: Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood Crouch, T. C. Arnett, Mrs. Bun Swann, Mrs. Byron Murdock, Mrs. Gordon Crouch, Mrs. Nix Harris, Mrs. C. H. Jones, Mrs. Joel Crawford, Mrs. Vernon Butterworth, Mrs. Mae Ford, Mrs. Clifton Key, Mrs. Pearl Jones, Mrs. Clifford Miller, and Mrs. A. A. Doherty. All reported an enjoyable time. The spring convention was scheduled to meet at our school next year.

The fourth and fifth grades have completed a project on pioneers. They have printed a mural on Abraham Lincoln, and depicting the life of Daniel Boone. The children have built a bookshelf of brick and wood to display their new library books and supplementary readers.

Reba McHood, Rebecca McHood, Kathryn Dunaway, Mary Todd, and Isaac Ford were visitors in our school last week.

Athletics

Our first home game of the net season was played by Faxon last Friday evening, November 8. The Wildcats were triumphant over the Faxon boys by a score of 25-11. The Kittens were defeated by a score of 17-15. The next game is at Concord, Friday evening, November 15. The Hazel ball team will meet the Wildcats here Tuesday evening, November 19. See these games and watch the Wildcats fight!

The annual Fiddlers' Contest will be held at our school Thanksgiving night, November 21, at 7 o'clock p. m. Prizes will be given in the following contests: Best fiddler playing Turkey in the Straw; best guitar selection with or without singing; best French harp selection; best fiddler playing any two selections; best whistler; best quartet singing two selections; best fiddler playing some sacred selection; and best dancer.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday, Nov. 17, 1940

This is "Conference Sunday" in the Methodist Conference and the hosts of Methodists will gather at Jackson, Tenn., this week to transact the yearly business of the Methodist churches of West Tennessee and West Kentucky. Bishop Doell will preside over the Conference, which will likely will adjourn late Sunday afternoon. The pastor will be in Jackson so there will be no preaching service at the Methodist church either morning or night, but the Sunday-school will have its regular session at 9:30 in the morning and the young people of the Intermediate and Senior Leagues will have charge of the evening service, beginning at 7 o'clock. These are fine young people and should have your support in their program of Sunday night. Come and hear them, and inspire them with your presence.

The Methodist pastors of Calloway County left for Jackson, Tenn., Wednesday morning and will remain there till the closing of the conference.

The pastor is grateful to the people of Murray and the surrounding territory for innumerable courtesies received during his four years of residence with you. I trust the blessings of God will rest on our good town and county.

NEW COAL STOVE AMAZES OWNERS

Operates on New, Different Principle—One Filling of Fuel Lasts 24 to 36 Hours

An entirely new and different type of coal heating stove is now on the market and is being acclaimed by users as amazingly efficient and economical. They say it not only saves considerable fuel costs, but also gives a great deal more heat. . . . with very little attention. Stove engineers say it is the most revolutionary coal stove advancement in 53 years.

The "Warm Morning" Heater, as it is called, is designed to give a large volume of radiating heat. Users report that it will hold a steady fire all day in severest weather without refueling, providing ample heat for several large rooms.

The stove holds one hundred pounds of coal which feeds down of its own weight.

The "Warm Morning" Heater will burn lump, nut or slack, hard coal, soft coal, coke or wood. There is a reduction in smoke and soot brought about by the manner in which the air is fed to the bed of coal. The coal is converted into coke, a process whereby a maximum of heat units is obtained from the fuel. The combustion principles applied to the stove assure more complete combustion with superior radiation and more sustained heat than coal stoves previously manufactured, stove engineers say. It is similar in construction to the bee-hive coke oven.

The coal is converted into coke, a process whereby a maximum of heat units is obtained from the fuel. The combustion principles applied to the stove assure more complete combustion with superior radiation and more sustained heat than coal stoves previously manufactured, stove engineers say. It is similar in construction to the bee-hive coke oven.

The "Warm Morning" Heater will burn lump, nut or slack, hard coal, soft coal, coke or wood. There is a reduction in smoke and soot brought about by the manner in which the air is fed to the bed of coal. AGENT ADVISES TO PLANT TREES NOW

12,900 Trees From Tennessee Valley Authority Nursery Have Been Planted

Announcing that more than 12,900 trees from nurseries of the Tennessee Valley Authority have been planted for erosion control on Calloway County farms during the past two years, Jno. T. Cochran, county agent, calls upon farmers to get in touch with his office concerning arrangements for the planting that begins this fall.

Planting, mulching, building check dams or other preparation is nearly always necessary, Mr. Cochran points out. He says that this work should be done, and trees applied for, well in advance of planting.

"People are finding that tree planting on eroded lands, in addition to being a civic responsibility for the protection of their land and the reservoirs on the Tennessee river," the county agent declares, "pays dividends by returning to usefulness areas abandoned for agriculture."

Quoting figures released by W. E. Jackson, forester for the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service, Mr. Jackson says that more than 6,500 trees from TVA sources were set out on farms in Calloway County during the last fall, winter, and spring planting season of 1939-40.

The local planting is a part of the program for water control on the land of the Tennessee Valley that has resulted in the planting of more than 10,000,000 trees. During the past season, almost 25,000,000 trees were set out. Of this number, more than $3,000 were in three counties of the Valley area in Kentucky.

County Agent Cochran stated today that a total of 40 such acres could be used in the county and that those interested should contact him now that they too can begin preparation for next spring.
